A SEWER DEATHTRAP.

AKRON, O., Dec. 11.—A sewer in course of reconstruction here caved in, burying seven laborers, four of whom were crushed to death and injuring the others so badly that they will probably die. The cave occurred

Three of the men were standing on the scaffold and the four others at the bottom of the tower which had been excavated to a depth of twenty feet. Suddenly the ladders gan crusting, and the water-soaked earth rolled down upon the unfortunate workmen. William McGill, one of the men on the scaffold, escaped, but all the others were caught by the mass of timber and earth. A great crowd of people soon assembled.

the ground of the men who were but partially buried were heartrending. They called for assistance, but for some time no one would venture near the hole. Finally a large force of men was set to work with shovels, and in half an hour two of the victims were taken out. They were yet alive,

Near him was found the body of a fourth man dead. It being apparent then that the others were dead the search was abandoned for the night. The list of the killed and wounded is as follows:

Max Rosenstug, aged 27, single, dead.
Henry Frigeri dead.
Unknown Italian dead.

John Wyckoff, aged 38, married, chest and belton crushed and leg broken, will die.
Herman Wyckoff, aged 37, married, will die.

"A RELIGIOUS CENSUS."

CINCINNATI, Dec. 11.—The Inter-Denominational congress met with a smaller attendance than usual. Rev. Dr. French was chosen moderator. After the regular devotional exercises, and a few brief remarks on religion, under a paper was read by Rev.

Dr. Krumler, of Pittsburg, on "A Religious Lensa." He said: "Tis an old song that Christianity is a failure. Many predicted and prophecied its end before this century. It is said there is more of wickedness and crime in the world to-day than ever before. That may be true, but there is more of His paper was bristling with facts and figures, showing that statistics completely refute the alleged saying that Christianity is on the decline. We have more than 6,000 missionaries. More than 10,000,000 are gladly receiving annuities in Europe and America.

He was followed by Rev. Frank Russell

THE END IN VIEW.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 11.—It seems that the shoe cutlers are not heeding the mandates of the Knights of Labor. It is understood that the latter organization has ordered the strikers to return to work, and that the executive

The order was to be carried out soon. The shoe cutters met and resolved not to go back. One man, however, returned to Siribey & Company's. He states that he prefers obeying the decision of the Knights of labor than the Loigo. Although the cutters have not as yet returned, still it is proper to believe that they will go back to work very soon, as without the aid of the Knights of Labor they are helpless.

Harlem Estate Case.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11.—An important and the last meeting of the Harlow estate syndicate previous to going into court to try for the possession of the vast New York estates claimed will be held in this city on Tuesday next. About five hundred heirs and stockholders will be present. A general report the work accomplished by the managing committees will be read, and some surprising statements are promised. It is stated that about one hundred thousand dollars has already been expended in collecting from all parts of the world testimony in proof of literal and collateral heirship. The librarian of public institution in Toga county is said to be in possession of the original deeds that granted the Harlem commons to their first owners. Among other prominent attorneys expected to be present is W. H. Shupe, of New York.

The Porte threatens an invasion of Bulgaria if Alexander opposes the Turkish commission to Roumelia. leave them in a minority of two against the

"A Parlor Match" will be the attraction at the opera house to-night. In announcements of this play, the Lowell (Mass.)

Sunday says:

"The presentation of 'A Parlor Match,' at Musie Hall, last evening, proved to be a very interesting performance, bristling with fun and incident, and evoking constant mirth and laughter. A large audience was in attendance. The play was presented in a very good style, but it has since been improved. The comic scenes that have been introduced and new and original and make up the musical. The cast of characters has been considerably changed, but includes the ever popular favorite, Miss J. E. Yeamans, whose success in 'The Old Maid' (Lillian Ellis), the capital 'savage' child, has not been in the least. She was as vivacious and fascinating as ever last evening, and her songs

and dances, and her character were generally applauded. Mr. C. M. Lester as McKerker, 'the book agent,' did his part very well, while Mr. R. L. Williams as 'Old Hank,' who stole nothing that he could not help himself to, was most amusing. The remainder of the cast were not so well acted, and in some cases tripped their feet. The play will be repeated on Friday evening, and a large audience will be in attendance.

THE MEETING.

Nine More Additions Last Night.

The interest in the revival services in the Baptist Church, this city, does not abate. The meeting has now been in progress nearly seven weeks, and the interest

seems to be increasing. The court house was crowded last night with an attentive audience who listened to another of the interesting sermons by Mr.

Hale from the text, "I am the bright and morning star." At the close of the sermon there were nine additions to the church, making sixty-seven in all. One thing remarkable about these services is,

that there is no very noticeable excitement

during the services. There will be preaching again at the court house to night at 7 o'clock by Mr. Hale.

people were helped up by giving them misery would be greatly lessened. Spend

ANOTHER MINERS' RIOT.

THIS TIME IT IS THE SECOND POOL NEAR MCKESPORT.

Two Hundred Strikers Visit the Fine Run Mine and Meet the "Blacklegs"—Fatal Affray—Engines Ditched and Demolished—Arrests to be Made.

FRANKFORD, Dec. 11.—It was reported in this city that committees of striking miners had been for several days scouting the various pools along the Monongahela river, uniting volunteers to visit the Fine Run mine operated by James Lynn & Sons in the Second pool near McKesport. The sixty or seventy miners employed there have been working for two weeks at the 3 1/2 cent rate. They had refused the request of the strikers to rejoin them until the strike was settled.

Shortly before 8 o'clock in the morning, about two hundred strikers congregated a short distance from the mine and awaited the appearance of the "blacklegs." The first to be overhauled was Nate Campbell, driver, who refused to go home. He was pelted upon and carried to the mine, receiving internal injuries that may prove fatal.

A gang of twenty next made the appearance, but when confronted by the excited miners, they quickly left for a way through the crowd, and stopped only when struck a stunning blow with a club. He was carried away by his comrades, who also notified Mine Superintendent James O'Neil, who with a number of men boarded the mine engine and proceeded to the scene.

The strikers seeing the approaching engine, threw the switches blocking the track. The engine was derailed and badly wrecked, its passengers thrown, excepting injury by jumping. Superintendent O'Neil, much surprised, wisely offered no resistance. The striking miners being in complete control then celebrated their victory by a deafening yell and left the mine. Subsequently fifty of the miners entered the pit and are now at work.

Twenty of the rioters were recognized and will be arrested. Sheriff Gray, of this city, with a number of deputies, is at the scene of the riot. Operators are fearful of a repetition of the acts of violence, and that their property will be burned. There is intense excitement in the vicinity.

The Chicago strike.
CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—The strike of the workmen has brought business in the freight yards of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad to a standstill, but so far there is no disorder, and if the strikers are to be believed there will be no violence. Forty of the day hands have left their work, and now thirty-two of the night men have joined their brethren, who have entirely suspended switching operations in the yards.

At 9 o'clock there were 300 loaded cars on the tracks not able to be moved, and more were expected to arrive. The strikers refused to let a wheel be turned, and to enforce obedience to their wishes, unopposed a great many cars. At 10 o'clock the company gave up all attempts to move trains, and called on the West Twelfth street police to protect their property. Twenty patrol men were stationed about Canal and Sixteenth streets, and will be kept there until a settlement is made. The cause of the strike was for being kept on duty the whole night, while only receiving pay for actual work at switching.

KILLED HIS OLD FRIEND.

Marion Carrier Murdered by James Gray—The Case a Mystery.

FLORENCE, Tex., Dec. 11.—Intelligence has been received from Lodi of the murder of Marion Carrier, a leading citizen of the village, by James Gray, his intimate friend. The tragedy is surrounded with a good deal of mystery. The killing took place in front of Gray's store at night. They were alone, as it was four years ago, for Lodi to call on him and see Gray the last thing before he came each night.

Gray is a cripple, and when arrested he was standing in the line of duty with his pistol in his hand, as though meditating self destruction. Just outside the doorway lay his former friend, Carrier, with a bullet in the heart, while around the corpse was the usual celt, holding a revolver, which had not been drawn.

It is thought they quarreled over some trivial matter. Gray says the deed was done in self defense. A peculiar feature about the homicide is the fact that Carrier, for fifteen years prior to the death of James Gray, father of the slayer, was his inseparable companion, and on the death of the father a number of years ago, the crippled son took his place in the warm affections of Carrier, who was universally esteemed.

DUDE STUDENTS.

Refused to Drill on "Bitter Cold" Days.

Twenty suspended.
MADISON, Wis., Dec. 11.—Twenty sophomores and freshmen of the State university have been indignantly suspended from that institution. About forty members of the two classes signed an agreement to the effect that they would not attend military drill in the afternoon from 8:30 to 4:30 o'clock on days that were "bitter cold."

About twenty boys had agreed, but the remainder weakened when the hour for "cutting" arrived and put in an appearance at the drill exercise. Those failing to appear were suspended.

The trouble, the boys claim has arisen from Lieut. Lusk's strict discipline, requiring that each soldier appears at drill with a black tie, cleanly shaven face and polished shoes.

An Unpleasant Charge.

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Capt. David O'Connell of house and ladder company No. 18, under the unpleasant charge of a coroner's jury that the death of Edward Cadmore, the fireman killed at the Cribben, Sexton & Co. fire, was due to the captain's carelessness in executing his orders. At the inquest, Assistant Fire Marshal Murphy and Capt. O'Connell both said that they had received orders from Chief Street to get the fire back from the walls which were in danger of falling, and Capt. O'Connell swore that he gave the order to the men. Chief Greenhoff, of engine company No. 11, said that Capt. O'Connell did not communicate any such order to him. Lieut. Ewert, of 11, testified that he heard no such order, and Lieut. Haber, of 31, who was at a pipe, was sure of the same thing.

THOMSON'S PATENT

GLOVE FITTING

ARE STILL TRIUMPHANT!

For fifteen years they have steadily gained in favor, and with sales constantly increasing they have become the most popular Glove throughout the United States.

The Glove quality is warranted to wear twice as long as ordinary Gloves. We have lately introduced the G and H grade with extra long wrist, and we can furnish them when preferred.

Highest awards from all the World's Great Fairs. The last medal received is for First Degree of Merit from the late exposition held at New Orleans.

While scores of patents have been found worthless, the principle of the Glove-Fitting has proved invaluable.

Retailers are authorized to refund money, if on examination, they find them to not prove as represented. For sale everywhere.
